

OUR MESSAGE TO MANAGEMENT: DO THE RIGHT THING!

On Friday, March 31, more than twenty Queen service and technical employees and RNs marched to new Queen CEO Larry Coomes' office, urging him to drop this costly lawsuit, respect our rights, and keep patient care dollars in this community!

We delivered a petition with nearly 300 signatures from NUHW Queen members, plus scores of signatures from NUHW members at the other four St. Joseph hospitals in the region, who stand united with us.

We're not only Queen employees – many of us get our care at Queen, or have family or friends who do. This is a close-knit community, and we care deeply about what happens at our hospital. We are simply asking to be treated with respect, and to have a say in decisions that impact our community.

Queen CEO Larry Coomes

We will continue fight for what is right.
PATIENTS FIRST!
