After several bargaining sessions with management our rank-and-file NUHW bargaining committee has reached several tentative agreements, which ultimately will be subject to a vote of all the members at Janus. These agreements include:

Courteous and Responsible Relationship Goals
Language that sets the standard for how managers and workers can interact with each other in a respectful manner.

Non-Discrimination
This is a provision that guarantees that the employer will treat employees the same regardless of race, color, religion, creed, national origin, ancestry, gender, gender identification, sexual orientation, age, physical or mental disabilities, political affiliation, marital status, medical condition, veteran status or membership in the union.

Union Representatives, Stewards, Bulletin Boards
This language gives rights of access to the facility for union representatives, sets forth the right of stewards to represent their co-workers without loss of pay, and provides for bulletin boards for union notices. Included in the language is a provision to train stewards (no loss of pay) and managers on the correct interpretation of the contract. Also, it allows for bargaining committee members to attend negotiations without loss in pay.

Labor–Management Committee
Janus workers and management will meet on a monthly basis to work our work issues.

Other items agreed to
Bereavement Leave, Confidentiality of Records, Conformity to Law, and No Lockouts or Strikes while the contract is in place.

We made a proposal regarding wages that attempts to address the low wages that have caused turnover of employees, affecting employee morale and patient care.
