

ONE-DAY STRIKE SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1

NUHW bargaining team delivers formal notice of a one-day unfair-labor-practice strike to management. Both NUHW members and Local 39 Engineers have called for strikes on the same day.

During negotiations last week, our NUHW Bargaining Team made moves toward achieving a possible compromise on health insurance and wage increases, while management maintained its position (1) that employees should pay huge amounts to keep the PPO plan, (2) that the costs of the PPO plan will further increase every year, and (3) that wage increases should be far too small to make up for this.

On Friday evening during the week's second negotiation session, in an effort to push these negotiations forward and protest the hospital's unfair labor practices, we informed management that we will be conducting a one-day strike on Friday, February 1.

Our colleagues in Local 39, during their bargaining session that day, also informed management that they will be beginning an open-ended strike on February 1.

We have two bargaining sessions scheduled this week and will earnestly work at reaching an agreement. But if management still refuses to move, we'll take this fight to the next level on February 1.
