

PROVIDENCE TARZANA MEDICAL CENTER

WELCOME TO NUHW

“I decided to join my co-workers at PTMC in our union because we deserve job security, safe staffing and respect.

We would get threatened by management for calling in sick. Management even cashed out some of my co-worker’s paid time off and told them they could not take time off.

This will all change now that we are in the union.”

Environmental Services Technicians voted 2 to 1 yesterday to join our 550 NUHW co-workers at Providence Tarzana Medical Center. With EVS joining, PTMC is now wall-to-wall union.

About two weeks ago, management gave us some raises to discourage us from joining NUHW, but they were uneven and unfair. We must continue organizing until we get to negotiate fair increases with the hospital administration.

In the coming weeks, all EVS members will have a chance to nominate coworkers to the bargaining committee and complete surveys to democratically determine which priorities they want the bargaining committee to address.
