

WHAT'S NEXT FOR NUHW MEMBERS AT CPMC?

Last week, the super-majority of CPMC NUHW members voted overwhelmingly to stay united in our union NUHW. Over the past few months, we have strengthened the bonds that hold us together as a union. We have more stewards, and we are better organized than we have ever been. Together, we acted quickly to secure a contract with 3 percent raises during a public health crisis that might be far from over.

Now let's build on our momentum and move forward together.

Our short-term contract doesn't expire until January 2021, but to win the long-term contract we all deserve, we need to start preparing now by:

- ✓ Recruiting more people to our bargaining team
- ✓ Recruiting and electing new stewards so we can identify and resolve workplace issues more quickly
- ✓ Continuing to hold Sutter accountable around COVID-19 preparedness in weekly meetings
- ✓ Getting every single member united behind our bargaining priorities:

Big raises • Fewer copays • Better staffing • Increased retirement
Overtime offered by seniority • NO subcontracting
