

NEW OWNERSHIP TO TAKE OVER SOON

As most of you are aware, Seton is close to being purchased by AHMC, a healthcare corporation based in Southern California. While the California Attorney General continues with his review of the sale and AHMC awaits approval, it is important that NUHW members prepare for upcoming negotiations with AHMC for a new contract.

Negotiations will begin on Wednesday of next week. The key to our past success has been the Seton membership's involvement to win the best contracts – wages, benefits and working conditions – possible. While we face a number of challenges this year as we embark on the campaign to win a good contract – the COVID-19 virus, a new owner we have not dealt with in the past – your involvement in this contract campaign can make all the difference in the world.

On Saturday, June 6, we will be holding online membership meetings to bring the entire NUHW membership up to date on AHMC's purchase of Seton, background on AHMC and their past experience with unions, as well as our strategy to win the best contract possible. We will also use this opportunity to answer your questions and solicit your input on how best to win.
