UNION UPDATES

Welcome Nolan Cassidy as New Steward!

We are excited to welcome Nolan Cassidy to our steward team! If you want to learn more about the vital roles stewards play in supporting each other and protecting our rights, reach out to one of us or our union representative.

Labor Management Meetings & New Employee Orientation

We are committed to fostering open communication through monthly meetings with management. The next meeting is set for March 28.

Additionally, if you're new at Stockton Unified, we invite you to the New Employee Orientation, held on the fourth Thursday of each month, where you can learn about your rights and resources as a union member.

Meet Our New Union Representative: Jessica Medina

Jessica Medina is here to support and represent us. With over a decade of organizing experience, including her work with Unite Here Local 2850 and Local 2, she is dedicated to continuing the fight for workers' rights. Jessica's passion for union organizing stems from her personal experiences, including organizing her former workplace to secure better healthcare for her son.
