

WE'RE STRIKING!

We had a strong turnout and great energy as we launched our 5-day strike to let management know we're willing to do whatever it takes to win a solid contract that respects and values our work, and ensures safe staffing to provide the high quality standard of care our patients deserve. Several labor and community allies, including Glenn Ball, vice president, Communication Workers of America local 9510; Donald Torres, Stanton city councilmember; Ahmad Zahra, Fullerton city councilmember; Lamiya Hoque, Buena Park city councilmember and Ada Briceño, president of Unite Here Local 11, and members of the Democratic Party of Orange County who are calling on West Anaheim Medical Center to bargain in good faith. We're back on the picket line tomorrow from 6 a.m. – 8 p.m. Let's send Prime Healthcare a strong message in time for bargaining on Wednesday that we are united and ready to fight for a contract that puts our patients and our community first.
